

GOEBEL CASE IN THE HOUSE

Factional Fight Over Extradition of the Fugitive Governor of Kentucky, Discussed.

JAMES SCORES PRES. ROOSEVELT

Calls Him the "Rough Rider President"—Term Pleases the Democratic Minority—Republicans Resent It.

Washington, Feb. 4.—Kentucky arrayed itself against Indiana in the house in a fast and furious debate over the Goebel murder case. Nearly every member of both delegations joined in the debate, which was started by the demand of Kentucky that Indiana return W. S. Taylor that he might be tried for assassination. Representative James of Kentucky and Mr. Crumpacker of Indiana led the factions. Partisan feeling rose to an extreme tension. The diplomatic appropriation bill was under consideration at the time.

Scores Roosevelt.
Mr. James, fired both sides of the house to interest and feeling by declaring at the outset that the "rough rider president" was ridiculous in his message to congress favoring international extradition treaties when one state could not get from another fugitives from justice. For four years, he said, Gov. Durbin of Indiana had protected Taylor "and yet I notice that when Durbin comes to town," continues

CONVENTION WAS NOT A LOVE FEAST

Improvised Gavel Used at Cannibal Island Lunch in Springfield.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Madison, Feb. 4.—The improvised gavel used at the recent republican love feast at Springfield, Ill., is now hanging with rabbits' feet, coon tails and other talismans in the relic room of "Paton" Henry W. Jameson, minister of the African Methodist church of Madison. The trophy is what is left of a leg of a chair and the colored preacher lays great store by it, believing it to be a certain assurance against cold in the chest. Then the republicans of Illinois recently gathered at Springfield for what was announced as a love feast, the Madison African minister was invited by Candidate Warner to be present. Rev. Jameson appears to have once wielded some influence in Illinois politics. He returned to Madison saying that the love feast was more accurately named by Mr. Warner as a "cannibal island lunch" because each candidate came with a lot of pluggers to knife each other candidate. When the time for the calling of the meeting arrived it was discovered that there was no gavel available and the capitol carpenter provided one by sawing the leg off from a chair. This, having done service in the gathering, was brought home to Madison by Rev. Jameson.

HANNA'S CONDITION DOES NOT IMPROVE VERY FAST

The Senator From Ohio is Still a Very Sick Man—A Consultation Was Held This Morning.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
Washington, Feb. 4.—It is announced at the Arlington hotel this morning that Senator Hanna had passed a fairly comfortable night with no return of congestive chills. Dr. Rixey held a consultation this morning with New York physicians. The senator's condition is a mystery thus far to the physicians and the consultation lasted more than an hour this morning. Dr. Rixey, Surgeon General Dr. Magruder of Washington, Dr. Brewer of New York were present, and a sample of the patient's blood was taken for examination. At 12:30 a bulletin was issued stating that no new feature was found in Hanna's condition; that the senator's suffering was from a recurrence of an attack of grippe with an unusual amount of physical depression but there are no alarming symptoms. Dr. Brewer returned to New York at one o'clock. Another consultation will be held this evening, when the result of the blood examination will be made known.

Crumpacker in Defense.
These remarks stirred the opposition to action and for something like two hours many members were on their feet at a time and the criminal and political records of both Kentucky and Indiana were handled with out gloves. The Democrats maintained that a state government had no right to take the question of "fair trial" into consideration from another state, while the Republicans maintained that history would justify Indiana's action in this case. When Mr. Crumpacker took the floor in defense of Indiana, he was beset by a volley of questions from the Democratic side, and was hardly able to maintain the thread of his argument on account of interruptions.

The Old Tewksbury Mansion in New York Guttered by Fire This Morning.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)

The house had been recently sold to Hymen Sonn, a wealthy real estate operator. The family escaped. Detective wire insulation was the cause. The mansion became notable through Tewksbury who had a meteoric career in Wall street as a plunger who could lose half a million without the flicker of an eyelash.

EXPRESS CARS PLUNGE DOWN AN EMBANKMENT

One Passenger Is Killed, Three Persons Are Fatally Injured and Twenty-five Seriously Hurt.

Halifax, Feb. 4.—Five cars of the Intercolonial express train on the Canadian Pacific railroad jumped the track at Hunter's Crossing and plunged down a thirty-foot embankment into the Shubenacadie river. One passenger was killed, three were fatally injured, and twenty-five seriously hurt. Not one of the passengers escaped unhurt.

The accident was due to a broken rail. The wrecked train torn down several telegraph poles in its mad rush down the embankment.

Conductor Robert Duncan, one of the oldest men in the service, was fatally injured.

The only dead passenger identified is Mrs. John Glassey, wife of the head of the firm of Kelly & Glassey of Halifax, one of the largest wholesale liquor houses in the province.

Five cars went over the embankment, and rolled down into the river. The Pullman turned over twice. One of the coaches struck a tree, and was ripped from end to end. The other cars landed bottom up in the water, which fortunately was less than two feet deep.

Mrs. Glassey was hurled across the day coach and instantly killed, her skull being crushed. Conductor Duncan, who was in the baggage car, was buried under a pile of trunks. His head was crushed, his legs broken, and his body cut and bruised. Baggage-master Blair had his scalp torn off, and is bleeding to death.

Sanford is also under indictment for manslaughter, the charge growing out of the alleged ill-treatment of children in his congregation.

WAR RUMORS ARE THICK TODAY

MOVEMENT OF RUSSIAN FLEET MAY MEAN CONFLICT, LONDON IS MUCH DISTURBED

Reports from a Private Source Say That Japan Will Take the Initiative.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
New York, Feb. 4.—From a private source it is learned today that Japan has become tired of Russia's delay in answering the last diplomatic note and is ready to take the initiative in beginning war.

London Gossip.
(Special by Scripps-McLain.)
London, Feb. 4.—In all quarters today it is admitted that war in the far east seems inevitable. The movement of the Russian fleet from Port Arthur is variously interpreted. The general impression is that the Russian and Japanese warships may meet at open sea and a battle occur without waiting for the formal declaration of war.

Late Dispatch

Tokio, Feb. 4.—An interview with a high government official today resulted in this declaration: "I assert my personal belief is that no matter what happens, war will be averted. If Russia refuses to sign the treaty my government is fully prepared as to steps it will take, but unable to announce what they will be. Personally I believe Russia will at the last moment sign the treaty pledging herself to recognize Chinese sovereignty over Manchuria."

London News

London, Feb. 4.—A special urgent cable to the Evening News from Peking says the official information received is that the Japanese government has refused further negotiations with Russia and is to take action at once. It is interpreted as meaning war in far east has begun.

EMBEZZLER GETS TEN YEARS

Cleveland Bank Cashier Who Took $187,000 Is Sentenced.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 4.—George A. Rose, late cashier of the Produce Exchange bank, who recently confessed to embezzling $187,000 of the bank's funds, has been sentenced to serve ten years in the penitentiary by Judge Disette in the criminal court. The sentence was the extreme limit of punishment that could be inflicted under the Ohio laws for the offense. With good behavior Rose can reduce his imprisonment to six years and four months. When brought into court Rose was pale and greatly emaciated. Asked if he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced, the prisoner replied: "I am truly sorry for what I have done and am willing to take my punishment."

ANOTHER CLUE TO MURDERER

Bedford, Indiana, Still Pondering Over Miss Shaeffer's Sad Death—New Disclosures.

SAW A MAN WALK UP THE ALLEY

Another Suspect Is Found—New Witness Tells of Seeing Him in the City on the Night of the Murder.

(Special by Scripps-McLain.)

Bedford, Ind., Feb. 4.—A new clue has been found in the Bedford murder case. It is regarded as one of the most important thus far discovered.

Detectives have learned that at 1 o'clock on the night of the murder Miss Katherine Griffey, residing at 711 Columbia street, Lafayette, Ind., was followed by a man answering the description of the person seen near where Miss Schaeffer was murdered.

The girl's story as told in Lafayette is as follows:

"I was visiting at the home of Miss Shultz, whose father is trainmaster of the Monon railway at Bedford. While there I became acquainted with Miss Schaeffer, and also with a man I did not like. On the day of the murder this man and I were together, and he grew angry at my refusal to accompany him, and we parted.

Thinks Murderer Followed Her.

"On the night of the murder I was at one end of the alley in which the body of Miss Schaeffer was found. It must have been shortly before the crime was committed. I discovered that a man was following me. He wore a long overcoat and seemed to be watching every movement I made. I succeeded in eluding him, and we walked up the alley toward the spot where Miss Schaeffer was murdered."

"The next morning, when I heard of the crime, I was so alarmed that I left Bedford at once and came back to Lafayette. Miss Schaeffer was about my size, and in some respects did not look unlike me. I am sure that the man who followed me committed the crime."

Immediately after hearing the girl's story, Detective Weinhardt, of Lafayette, called upon Mayor Smith, on the telephone, and the two had a long talk. Mayor Smith seemed to be deeply impressed, and said that he would send detectives there at once to talk further with Miss Griffey. The girl was not inclined to tell her story to the police, but was urged by her friends to do so.

Detectives Have Scent.

A man now in Chicago may hold the key to the solution of the murder. This is one theory on which certain Chicago detectives are working. Who the man is, whether a resident of Chicago or a fugitive in hiding, the detectives alone know.

It is known, however, that a detective has telegraphed the agency in Chicago, outlining his theory of the murder, in which a man in Chicago is a factor, and has asked that men be detailed from the Chicago agency to find him. The assertion also was made that the new theory on which the detectives are working does not eliminate Miss Eva Love, the dead girl's former roommate, entirely from the solution of the mystery.

RAYNER WINS CONTEST FOR THE SENATORSHIP

Schley's Attorney Defeats the Democratic Machine Headed by Gorman and Will Be Latter's Colleague.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 4.—Senator Gorman received a body blow when eighty-nine of the ninety Democratic members of the Maryland general assembly met in caucus and after a long parley decided to select Eldor Rayner for the United States senatorship to succeed Louis E. McComas, the present incumbent.

Senator Gorman, when the general assembly first met, strongly favored John Walter Smith for the senatorship. A caucus was held, and when it was found that Smith had no show at all of election, Gorman tried to throw his strength to Bernard Carter.

For a time during the deadlock, Smith and Rayner seemed to have about equal chances, and neither faction would yield an inch. When it was found that the deadlock would continue indefinitely Rayner was chosen as a compromise. He is a political reformer, and is particularly obnoxious to Gorman, and his being chosen is a severe blow.

This ends one of the most memorable fights in the history of Maryland politics. Although the state was apparently absolutely in the grasp of the Democratic machine, headed by Senator Gorman, Rayner made his fight independently of it and won. The organization crippled itself at the start by attempting to desert Smith for Carter, thus dividing the machine's strength. When the contest narrowed down to a question between Rayner and Smith the friends of former Governor Elihu E. Jackson, who is a political enemy of Smith, turned in and made Rayner the nominee.

TOWN OFFICERS ARE ARRESTED

Accused of Collecting Money on Illegally Drawn Orders.

Wausau, Wis., Feb. 4.—Several of the officers of the town of Pike Lake have been arrested on the complaint of the president of the Bank of Wittenberg, R. W. Roberts, on charges of forgery.

For several years, it is alleged, those officers have carried on a system of collecting money from different parties on illegally drawn town orders. Recently about $2,000 of these orders fell into the hands of the Wittenberg bank for collection, when an investigation showed them to be worthless. The bank brought suit against the town for recovery, but Judge Silverthorn held that as the orders were forgeries the town was not liable and upon that decision the arrests were made.

SUSPEND SIX FOR "CRIBBING"

University of Wisconsin Officials Punish Law Students.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 4.—Seven students have been suspended from the University of Wisconsin law school. One has been punished because of immoral conduct and the six others have fallen victim to the vigilance of the new dean of the college of law in seeking out those who cheat in examinations. Prof. Harry Richards, the new dean, surprised the law department recently by warning that infractions of the rule against "cribbing" examinations would be watched for by monitors and the offenders would be suspended. Among the six caught by the monitors are said to be two members of one of the intercollegiate debating teams. The names of the suspended students are commonly handed about, but they may never be given out officially by the authorities.

CHAPTER XXIV.

THE REGENT'S PROMISE.

"Tell me, then, Monsieur L'as, of this new America. I would fain have some information at first hand. There was rumor, I know not how exact, that you once traveled in those regions."

Thus spake his grace Philippe, duke of Orleans, regent of France, now, in effect, ruler of France. It was the audience which had been arranged for John Law, that opportunity for which he had waited all his life. Before him now, as he stood in the great council chamber, facing this man whose ambitions ended where his own began—at the convivial board and at the gaming table—he saw the path which led to the success that had craved so long. He, Law of Lauriston, sometime adventurer and gambler, was now playing his last and greatest game.

"Your Grace," said he, "there be many who might better than I tell you of that America."

"There are many who should be able, and many who do," replied the regent. "By the body of the Lord! we get nothing but information regarding these provinces of New France, and each advice is worse than the one preceding it. The gist of it all is that my lord governor and my very good intendant can never agree, save upon one point or so. They want more money, and they want more soldiers—ah, yes, to be sure, they also want more women, though we sent them out on a ship load of choice beauties not more than a six-month ago. But tell me, Monsieur L'as, is it indeed true that you have traveled in America?"

"For a short time."

"I have heard nothing regarding you from the intendant at Quebec."

"Your grace was not at that time caring for intendants. 'Twas many years ago, and I was not well known at Quebec by my own name."

"Et bien? Some adventure, then, perhaps? A woman at the bottom of it, I warrant."

"Your grace is right."

"'Twas like you, for a fellow of good steel. May God bless all fair dames. And as to what you found in this following—or was it in fleeing—your divinity?"

"I found many things. For one, that this America is the greatest country of the world. Neither England nor France is to be compared with it."

The regent fell back in his chair and laughed heartily.

"Monsieur, you are indeed, as I have ever found you, of most excellent wit. You please me enormously."

"But, your grace, I am entirely serious."

"Oh, come, spoil not so good a jest by qualifying. I beseech you! England or France, indeed—ah, Monsieur L'as, Monsieur L'as!"

"Your own city of New Orleans, sire, will lie at the gate of a realm greater than all France. Your grace will hand to the young king, when he shall come of age, a realm excellently worth the ownership of any king."

"You say rich. In what way?" asked the regent. "We have not had so much of returns after all. Look at Crozat! Look at—"

"Oh, fie, Crozat! Your grace, he solved not the first problem of real commerce. He never dreamed the real richness of America."

Philippe sat thoughtful, his finger tips together. "Why have we not heard of these things?" said he.

"Because of men like Crozat, of men like your governors and intendants at Quebec. Because, your grace, as you know very well, of the same reason which sent me once from Paris, and kept me so long from laying before you these very plans of which I now would speak."

"And that cause?"

"Maintenance—that is to say—"

"Oh, ah! Indeed—how is it to be?"

"Louis would hear naught of me, of course. Maintenance took care that he should find I was but heretic."

"As for myself," said Philippe the regent, "heretic or not heretic makes but small figure. For us, 'tis most a question of how to keep the king in the saddle and France underneath."

"Precisely, your grace."

"Frankly, Monsieur L'as, I take it fittest now not so much to ponder over new worlds as over how to keep in touch with this old world yet awhile. France has danced, though for years she danced to the tune of Louis clad in black. Now France must pay for the music. My faith, I like not the look of things. The joyful France today is a hideous thing. These people laugh! I had sooner see a lion grin. Now to govern those given us by providence to govern, and the regent smiled grimly at the ancient fiction.

"It is most meet that the governed should produce somewhat of funds in order that they may be governed."

"Yes, and the error has been in going too far," said Law. "These people have been taxed beyond the taxation point. Now they laugh."

"Yes, and by God, Monsieur L'as, when France laughs, beware!"

"Your grace admits that France has no other resources."

"Assuredly."

"Then tax New France!" cried Law, his hand coming down hard upon the table, his eyes shining. "Mortgage where the security doubles every year, where the soil itself is security for wealth greater than all Europe ever owned."

"Oh, very well, monsieur; though later I must ask you to explain."

"You admit that no more money can be forced from the people of France."

"Ask the farmers of the taxes. Ask Chamillard of the treasury. My faith, look out of the window! Listen! Do I not tell you that France is laughing?"

"Very well! Let us also laugh. Let us all laugh together. There is money in France, more money in Europe. I assure you these people can be brought to give cheerfully all they have."

"It sounds well, Monsieur L'as, but let me ask you how?"

"France is bankrupt—this is brutal, but none the less true. France must repudiate her obligations unless something be swiftly done. It is not noble to repudiate, your grace. Yet, if we cancel and not repudiate, if we can obtain the gold of France, of Europe—"

"Body of God! but you speak large, my friend."

"Not so large. All subjects shrink as we come close to them by study. 'Tis easy to see that France has not money enough for her own business. If we had more money in France, we should have more production, and if we had more production, we might have taxes. Thereby we might have somewhat in our treasury wherewith to keep the king in the saddle, and not under foot."

"Then, if I follow you," said Philippe, leaning slightly forward and again placing his finger tips judiciously together, "you would coin greater amounts of money. Then, I would ask you, where would you get your gold for the coinage?"

"It is not gold I would coin," said Law, "but credit."

"The kingdom hath been run on credit for these many years."

"No, 'tis not that kind of credit that I mean. I mean the credit which comes of confidence. It is fate, necessity, which demands a new system. The world has grown too much for every man to put his sixpence into the other man's hand, and carry away in a basket what he buys. We are no longer savages, to barter beads for hides. Yet we were as savages, did we not come to realize that this insufficient coin must be replaced, in the evolution of affairs, just as barter has long ago been replaced."

"No, 'tis not that kind of credit that I mean. I mean the credit which comes of confidence. It is fate, necessity, which demands a new system. The world has grown too much for every man to put his sixpence into the other man's hand, and carry away in a basket what he buys. We are no longer savages, to barter beads for hides. Yet we were as savages, did we not come to realize that this insufficient coin must be replaced, in the evolution of affairs, just as barter has long ago been replaced."

GRIP CONVALESCENCE

There's nothing better than Scott's Emulsion after the grip. When the fever is gone the body is left weak and exhausted; the nervous system is completely run down and vitality is low.

Two things to do: give strength to the whole body and new force to the nerves. Scott's Emulsion will do it; contains just what the worn-out system needs.

Rich blood, healthy flesh, resistive force, more and better nourishment are what Scott's Emulsion supplies to the convalescent.

must if ever be forgotten in our understanding. The shares of this bank must have a fixed value in regard to the coin of the realm. There must be no altering of the value of our coin. Grant that the coin does not fluctuate, and I promise you that my bank actions, notes of the chief bank of Paris, shall soon be found better than gold or silver in the eyes of France. Moreover, given a greater safety to foreign gold, and I promise you that too shall pour into Paris in such fashion as has never yet been seen. Moreover, the people will follow their coin. Paris will be the greatest capital in Europe. This I promise you I can do.

"In effect," said the regent, smiling, "you promise me that you can build a new Paris, a new world! Yet much of this I can in part believe and understand. Let that be as it may. The immediate truth is that something must be done, and done at once."

"Obviously."

"Our public debt is twenty-six hundred millions of livres. Its annual interest is eighty millions of livres. We cannot pay this interest alone, not to speak of the principal. Obviously, as you say, the matter admits of no delay. Your bank—why, by heaven, let us have your bank! What can we do without your bank?"

GAME LASTS FIVE CENTURIES

Chinamen. Finish. Checker Board Contest Begun by Remote Ancestors. Cleveland, O., Feb. 4.—A series of games of Chinese checkers began in China 520 years ago, was completed Feb. 3 in Cleveland. Ong Lee, clerk for a Chinese grocery in Buffalo, and Hop Ying, an artist of Chicago, were the last players. The games were played in the Chinese colony. Ancestors of Ong Lee and Hop Ying were enthusiastic students of the game of checkers. A contest between them was interrupted by the death of one. The other wrote down the status of the uncompleted games and the manuscript was preserved. Recently the descendants found each other in this country and finished the series.

UNWISE INTERFERENCE.
When the state administration decided to take a hand in attempting to control congressional nominations it adopted a policy that was both unwarranted and unwise.

The third district was selected as the initial stamping ground, and a little coterie at Madison attempted to place in the field a candidate from each county in the district, hoping in the end to combine forces and thus defeat the nomination of Congressman Babcock.

Just why half a dozen men could be found who were willing to act as stool pigeons in this sort of a campaign is a mystery which can only be explained by the hypnotic influence which the governor exerts over his deluded followers.

They were all aware of the fact that if successful, but one of them could be rewarded. The candidates—as well as the management—had evidently overlooked another important fact, namely, that Babcock was one of the best politicians in the state.

Not only was he one of the best politicians in the state but in the nation. Shrewd and able he has taken the initial step in an aggressive campaign, has carried the line of battle into the enemies' territory and with the naming of his convention date early in March drawn the first blood. Day by day Babcock was vilified by the Organ of the administration as a corrupt politician, one who ignored all state laws by riding on a pass given him by a railway. Not only did he ride on a pass but gave them to his friends. Then came the startling news that chief Reformer Bancroft, assistant attorney general of the state, a man without guile and on whom the administration planned its hopes for the future had used an annual pass all last year. One pin prick and the giant bubble of opposition on his part melted into nothingness. It was even hinted that another state reformer had used a pass but this will come out later. Babcock was not caught napping and when his congressional convention is called to order and he is renominated by a good majority a vital blow to the cause of so-called reform will be struck. Nor has this unwise interference in the congressional policy of the state been confined to the Third District. The tenth and eleventh have likewise suffered from the petty annoyances of men whose heads have been set awry by the buzzing of the congressional bee. Not a day goes by when the administration headquarters. In the tenth Congressman Webster Brown is a fighter when it becomes necessary to fight. He is not one to be discouraged by the stings of flies who hover over the situation like vultures near a battlefield. When the time comes Mr. Brown can be depended upon to stand for his rights and the rights of conservative republicanism with all the power in his means.

John J. Jenkins of the Eleventh district is another fighter of the conservative brand. He has likewise been picked for slaughter but the men who have decided upon his killing have counted without their man and Mr. Jenkins is not one to sit calmly by and see his scalp lock taken without a murmur. He will not show his hand too early but when he does all the marked cards of the Governors' outfit will count for naught and they will be defeated as badly as Mr. Babcock is planning for their entertainment in the Third.

In our own county we have no talk of opposition to Mr. Cooper on the part of the administration. This in itself is suspicious. The first district is known to be conservative in sentiment and that no fight should have been determined upon here to divert the attention from the state fight looks peculiar. Then too the question of the Milton postoffice with the quibbles and flurries which seem to accompany the re-appointment of W. W. Clarke to succeed himself does not tend to ease the minds of many who feel that Mr. Cooper is more in sympathy with the Reform element than with the men who have supported him so staunchly in time past. Two years ago the reform element had their man picked for the nomination for congress. Rock county nipped the plan in the bud and Mr. Cooper was playing fast and loose his old time constituents for the sake of a new God possibility the congressional bee might buzz in Rock county and not in vain, much to the sorrow of the present congressman.

ROOSEVELT AND HANNA.

The two men most talked in the national republican politics today are President Roosevelt and Mark Hanna. These two men are types of two different classes of the people of this great country. Hanna represents the Wall Street element, the schemers, the trust men and the element that has in the past wielded great power in national politics. Roosevelt, on the other hand stands for the people. He represents the common people as but few presidents have in the past. He is a man of the world. Not the narrow world of Wall street but of the whole wide continent of America. North, south, east and west. He is as much at home in a cow boys camp on the Missouri as he is in a drawing room in Washington. He is a live man. A man who knows the everyday affairs of the country. He stands at the head of. He has a motto that when right goes ahead and do not be turned from the path you have chosen. In peace and in war he is strenuous. He does not spare himself at the expense of others. Theodore Roosevelt is a man of the people and by the rank and file of the republican party he is their choice for president. On the other hand Mark Hanna is the clever shrewd politician. He is a man to manipulate great deals. To pose as a reformer before people, as the one man to stand between capital and labor. To settle strikes, to aid suppressed labor to gain a foothold and help them up the slope. He is the choice of Wall street. This alone should condemn him in the eyes of the people as compared to Roosevelt. Many have judged Roosevelt as a hasty man who follows the dictates of his own will. As yet the American people have not had an opportunity to judge this man. He was elected the second on a ticket which had for its head the late William McKinley. Death took the leader away and the vice president Roosevelt stepped into the seat made vacant by the assassins bullet. Since he has taken the reins of government he has tried to follow the principals of McKinley. He was chosen by the people to follow out his policy and has done this as best he could. He has not allowed his personal opinions to crop out and govern his actions but has tried to pursue the course laid down for him at the election of McKinley four years ago. When Roosevelt is nominated by the republican convention in Chicago we shall see a new man. We shall have new policies which will show the true greatness of the friend of the people. Roosevelt stands for the masses, Hanna for the narrow coterie of Wall street manipulators.

Plans for an active campaign are being arranged for Rock county. The political bee is buzzing away in lively style in many of the honnets about the city and before convention time there will be a goodly list of candidates for the county offices in the field.

Work of organizing the sentiment for conservatism continues to go on throughout the state and gain strength every day. Railway passes for state officials, petty larceny of letters and taking other peoples mail does not seem to be building up confidence in the present administration.

While many papers throughout the country are joking about Willie Hearst and his boom they want to remember he has three big newspapers to back him with all sorts of yellow journalism.

An American war correspondent has been imprisoned in the far east because he photographed one of the Japanese forts. Good for Japan.

PRESS COMMENT.

Manila American: The Chinese are satisfied that Governor Taft is a very large, great man, for they have presented him the "Umbrella of Ten Thousand Men." It that does not keep him "out of the wet," what will? By that same token if the weather continues he will need that self-same umbrella tomorrow.

Hudson Star-Times: Reformer reformer, is the slogan needed in Wisconsin politics today.

Oshkosh Northwestern: It Whitaker Wright had lived in this country he might have resorted to a writ of habeas corpus instead of trying a dose of prussic acid.

Racine Journal: Dr. Savage, a noted New York divine, says Rev. Henry Ward Beecher preached his strongest sermons while in a condition of trance. If it be true there are no objections to others doing the same thing.

Detroit Tribune: At frequent intervals the silver issue is killed, again so that there may be no doubt that it is dead.

Atlanta Constitution: George Fred Williams is said to be in favor of the presidential candidacy of Richard Olney. Never mind the paradox; think of the wonderful completeness of Democratic harmony this year?

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Bryan says he will support none of the Democrats who voted for Palmer and Buckner, and there were 133,424 of them. The McKinley Democrats were still more numerous, and may also be presumed to be unacceptable to the infatigable loser of 1896 and 1900.

Rockford Register-Gazette: Mr. Bryan got so many new ideas in Europe that Tom Johnson is going to start post haste and try to pick up a few for himself, if there are any left.

Merrill Advocate: The almighty tradition's whitewash of Bancroft and its clumsy effort to hush up that assistant attorney-general's railroad pass scandal, like the school book scandal, is characteristic of the times and the people involved. It disregards not only the law and the facts but the former attorney-general's opinion, and goes ahead on the theory that "the king can do no wrong" and carries it a bit further and makes it cover the hired man.

STOCK MARKET IS DESCRIBED

Daniels, Wells and Carpenter Write Their Weekly Stock Letters on Conditions.

Prices finally got low enough to discourage marketing and today receipts dropped down to an estimate of 9,000 less than half our usual supply for Wednesday, consequently, our market advanced unevenly but mostly from 15c to 25c. There were not many choice ones here today and this writing, with two hours of the market yet to run $5.75 was as high as we heard of. We will have another light run tomorrow and probably some advance and the week will close with a substantial advance which will encourage heavy shipping for Monday and another week, very likely. The car famine, however, has been relieved and if conditions remain so they could get cars back regularly from the east we would see demand enough to absorb a big run Monday. We believe though it would be wise for those anxious to get rid of their cattle to hold on for a time as we expect to see a marked improvement in prices in the near future.

With about half the normal hog receipts for Wednesday our market this morning opened 10c to 15c higher but at the close nearly all the early strength was lost and some late arrivals left over. The packers claim the fresh meat trade has dropped off badly of late and refused to follow the pace set by the scalpers this morning. The shippers did very little today, prices at Buffalo being about the same as here yesterday and very little higher at other eastern points so when such is the case we can not expect much demand from the east but we believe we will have a better demand soon and while prices will not go any higher to speak of we will have close to present prices. We look for the bulk of the hogs to sell next month. Light hogs today sold mostly from $4.65 to $5.00, heavy packing grades $4.90 to $5.00 and butchers and prime medium shipping grades $4.90 to $5.10 with top at $5.15. We expect a light run again tomorrow and probably some gain but after that prices are apt to settle back to around yesterday's prices and top near the 5c notch.

Our sheep market was in line with the other markets today but hardly scored as much advance, being strong to 10c higher, with a top on lambs at $6.00 but most of the common to good lambs went from $5.25 to $5.50. Feeding lambs are selling high, the best from $4.85 to 5.00. Yours very respectfully,

DANIELS, WELLS & CARPENTER.

GOSSIP ON THE CHICAGO MARKET

Interesting News From the Closing Reports of the Windy City's Mart.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 4.—There was a wild opening this morning a rapid advance to 95c for May a quick decline to 94c and a nervous recovery to 95c. The realizing on the advance was enormous and the leading bull undoubtedly sold heavily around top prices. The break would have been greater but for the alarming cables from Japan saying war was inevitable. This alarmed the market up and made would-be sellers chary of committing themselves. After so rapid an advance a reaction would seem to be only natural and while the situation is very grave in the far east we would hardly feel like buying at these prices. On any good sharp dip it would do well to catch on again. Wheat is undoubtedly good for higher prices but we think a break should come first.

Corn opened up about a cent advanced slightly and dropped a point or more. There was more wanted at 55 than could be supplied and the market forged up to top prices again. Corn is certainly a buy on the breaks.

Oats followed the other markets in its action today closing about one-half cent under the high prices for May. The leading bull let go on good bulges only to take everything that is offered on the breaks. Buy oats. 60c is promised for May.

Provisions were strong during the day with no great price changes. While we look for higher prices in case of actual war, we think there is a good chance to scalp May Pork on the short side at these prices.

A FLEET OF TANK BOATS

WILL CARRY BURR LITHIA WATER ON ROCK RIVER.

BOTTLING PLANT IN THIS CITY

The Batting Factory Warehouse Was Leased for Purpose Yesterday—To Install Machinery at Once.

With the opening of navigation on the Rock river this spring, that waterway which has not been used except for power and pleasure since the days when logs floated down past Janesville and into Illinois, will become an avenue of commerce. Tank-boats laden with the precious waters from the Burr Lithia springs, will ply to and fro along the four-mile course, at regular intervals, and the tanks and their shillies, which are being lowered at the wharves, their period coming and going, will give to the whole waterway a new and business-like aspect.

Secure Factory Site
At a meeting of the Rock River Mineral Water Co. held in this city yesterday, the stock was subscribed and directors elected. C. F. Sultemeyer, secretary of the Krehnhauf & Nubarth Co. of 53 & 55 Lake street, Chicago, is the promoter and principal owner in the enterprise, and his firm will handle the water along with their whistles and cordials. While in the city yesterday a portion of the old Bailey warehouse of the batting factory at the corner of River and Fourth streets, 55 by 24 feet in dimensions, was leased for the bottling factory. These temporary quarters are regarded as very convenient, being on the river bank and in proximity to the railroad track.

To Commence at Once
The work of commencing machinery here for bottling and carbonating the water will commence at once and everything will be ready before the river is clear of ice and the tank-boats are ready to commence carrying their cargoes. The export of 12,000 gallons of this water from Janesville yearly is certain to prove a good thing for the city and the industry will undoubtedly grow to considerable proportions in the course of a few years. It is not unlikely that other beverages belonging to the class of "soft drinks" will be manufactured and Janesville ginger beer may yet enter into competition with the famous English product.

The boys have been putting in some good practice lately, and are in much better condition than at the former game. The second team promises to make a good showing and will be watched with interest. Rockford are old rivals and many who are interested in the local team will be there to cheer the boys on.

NEARLY MET AT ST. PAUL DEPOT

S. A. Cook and Governor La Follette Both in the City This Morning at the Same Time.

Hon. S. A. Cook, the republican candidate for the nomination for governor, and Governor La Follette nearly met at the St. Paul depot here this morning. Mr. Cook was on his way north from Monroe and Governor La Follette was on his way from Madison to Monroe. Both men were at the depot at the same time, but as Mr. Cook remained in the waiting room and the governor staid on the platform neither knew of the other's presence. Mr. Cook has been doing considerable campaigning through the hit-or-miss governor's own district and it is possible that the governor was on his way to tear up a few of the fences his political opponent has been building the past few days. The governor was met at the depot by Dr. Roberts and a few of the faithful but did not stop in the city for more than a few minutes. Mr. Cook was here for some time waiting for his train.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left for a short wedding trip on the 7:20 train and will return in a few days making their home in this city. Miss Fenton, the bride, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philo Fenton. Up to last Friday she was the principal of the Jackson school, resigning her position to be married.

A TALK ON SUGAR FACTORY

Capt. Davidson Has Plainly Shown His Preference for Janesville—More Spirit Should Be Shown.

"Many do not seem to realize what the securing of that $500,000 sugar factory would mean for Janesville," said one of the committee that is soliciting subscriptions this afternoon. "Think of it for a moment. It would cost $200,000 to move the factory here, and over $100,000 would be spent in Janesville next summer in erecting it. But that is only a beginner. Right during the dull season of the year 250 men and many of them high priced ones too, would be employed.

Liven Up Whole City
"The city enjoys good lively trade only when the farmer is prosperous. If the tobacco cannot be taken down there is nothing going on in the warehouses and business is dull. What a difference it would make in this city today if we had that factory here! The farmers are more enthusiastic than the city people. The location of the factory here would benefit them primarily of course.

Factory Ready to Move
"Capt. Davidson is waiting to hear from Janesville. Fond du Lac has sent word to him to come on—that it will guarantee the acreage and furnish the site. Now put yourself in his place. If you were about to move a factory at an expense of a half a million and the town you had figured on as a possible place for the site hadn't enough interest in the matter to raise a few thousand dollars in order to guarantee you the site and acreage, what would you do about it?

Interest the Main Thing
"And in Capt. Davidson's case the interest is the main thing. He has got to know that the people are with him and are going to cooperate in securing the factory. The few hundreds of dollars that they raise as a guarantee of good faith are nothing to him in themselves, save that they show what kind of a spirit is back of them. I tell you this is the biggest proposition Janesville ever had a chance to consider. It is bigger than the M. D. Wells Shoe Co. project. If we don't do something pretty quick it will be lost. We have raised about $1,000. We need $2,500 anyway before the business men can tell Capt. Davidson to come on. It should be done this week."

LOWELL CO.

POLITICAL BEES ARE NOW FLYING

MANY ASPIRANTS FOR HONORS APPEAR IN THE FIELD.

SOME OF THOSE MENTIONED

All of the County Offices with the Exception of Register of Deeds Have Applicants.

With the approach of the spring campaign the list of aspirants for county offices are becoming known. The voluntary retirement of Clerk of the Court Theodore Goldin and District Attorney W. A. Jackson, leaves these two offices open to the possible candidates. Both gentlemen have served the county well and their leaving the field vacant will make two places hard to fill. Candidates are at so in the field for sheriff, county clerk, county treasurer and in fact every office but that of register of deeds. Thus far no one has applied for Mr. Wehrick's position, although some one may come out later.

For Sheriff
Thus far but two candidates are in the field for the office of sheriff. U. Fisher, the present under sheriff, and Wallace Cochran, a deputy sheriff. Mr. Cochran has served the county faithfully in the past and will doubtless have a large following throughout the county.

For District Attorney
Four men have signified that they may be tempted to become district attorney in Mr. Jackson's place if sufficiently urged. C. B. Rosa of Beloit thinks he would like the position. W. O. Newhouse of Janesville is also said to be an aspirant and Edward Peterson is also an avowed candidate. John L. Fisher of Janesville also thinks he would like the place and says he may make the run for the nomination.

Clerk of the Court
Three men are talked of for clerk of the court: Ward A. Stevens, a rising young attorney of the city; Jesse Earle, the well known justice of the peace, and George Ingersoll of Beloit.

Other Offices
For county clerk it is understood that Mr. Starr wishes to serve another term and that W. D. McComb is anxious for the honors. C. W. Eggn is the only candidate thus far for the position of county treasurer.

EVERYONE KNEW THEY WERE WED

W. H. Dougherty and Bride Had a Trying Time at Madison, Last Night.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Madison, Feb. 4.—"W. H. Dougherty and wife of Janesville," is the name which was inscribed upon the register of the Park Hotel yesterday by a young man with black curly hair, the countenance of a vigorous Irishman and the telltale necktie of white silk. No less telltale was the appearance of the blushing bride who dared not go near enough to the desk to see her identity swallowed by the omnibus term "wife." "How did you know I was a bride and groom?" asked the newly made husband of the genial ancestor of keys and calls. "Colonel" Anderson, during the early evening, after an acquaintance had been formed. "But I don't know any such thing," said the colonel. "What are you saying, anyhow? Didn't I just own up to you that I was married this morning?" "Yes, you did," said Anderson, "and that may make you a groom but I don't see how that makes you a bride too." "Oh, gwan with you," said Dougherty. "Come have something. Well, take a cigar."

Otto Shleker of the Mineral Point division of the St. Paul road has taken William Dees's place on the Chicago run during Mr. Dees's absence at the Hot Springs. Yesterday, Mr. Shleker attended the funeral of his uncle, the late John Shmuss. Mrs. H. G. Carter and Miss Shleker also attended the funeral.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and relieves pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

WHAT THIS MAN SAYS

Only Reaches the Sentiments of Thousands in Our Republic.

The Janesville reader is asked to thoroughly investigate the following:

This can really be done for the gentleman whose statement is published below will only be too pleased to answer any communication mailed to him if the writer really suffers from the annoying consequences which always attend inactive or weakened kidneys.

W. Samp, of 412 Euclid avenue, proprietors of the largest rock quarry business in Beloit, says: "I had trouble with my kidneys for many years. It consisted mostly of a burning and itching back, and there were occasions when I had such severe attacks that I could not get out of the house for two or three weeks at a time. I was then practically helpless for it was painful to move.

At other times it assumed a milder form, being a dull aching across my kidneys. I used medicines of different kind but I never found anything that gave the satisfaction that

Doan's Kidney Pills did. This remedy is worthy of a high recommendation and it is a pleasure for me to endorse it as doing all that is claimed for it."

Plenty more proof life this from Janesville people. Call at the People's drug store and ask what their customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Foster-

Electricity in Indian Palaces.

The wealthy Zemindars and Maharajahs of India are using electricity very largely for the lighting of their palaces. The Maharajah of Dharbanga has just placed an order with a Calcutta firm for the installation of an electric lighting plant for his new palace at Raynagar, which will cost over $100,000.

Abandon Pumps in Mines.

The removal of mine water by hoisting in tanks instead of pumping, while somewhat of a reversion to the methods of the ancients, has come very rapidly into favor in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania during the last few years. In fact, so much so that at the present time there are at least eight large collieries at which all the water is hoisted, and six more plants in preparation.

To Protect Russian Grain.

The produce exchanges of the Russian Black sea ports—Odessa, Nikolayev and Rostoff—intend to locate agents at the ports of Hull, London, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Hamburg and Marseilles for the purpose of watching the arrivals of Russian grain cargoes and frustrating the fraudulent practices which have brought Russian grain into disrepute.

Educated Indians.

The often printed statement that educated Indians soon after leaving school relapse to the "blanket" state is refuted by the report of the Hampton Institute. That school has graduated 938 Indian boys and girls, 673 of whom are now living. The report shows the work of these alumni to be excellent in 141 cases; good in 333; fair in 149; poor in 42, and in 3.

Take Courage!

If you are naturally not as strong as your more fortunate sisters, and for this reason experience dread rather than joy at the prospect of becoming a mother, take courage and assurance from this fact: Mother's Friend is meant for you, and by its use you may pass through that glorious martyrdom which is yours by divine right with no more discomfort than that experienced by those who by nature are possibly more adapted for the role of motherhood.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is a liniment of proven merit, and its great worth can be no better attested to than by the countless strong and healthy children who through its kindly offices have entered this world unhandicapped by any deformity or weakness. It is a liniment which by external application acts upon the abdominal muscles and permits of a painless parturition.

IT'S A BARGAIN ARGUMENT FROM ONE END OF THE STORE TO THE OTHER

Every stock emphasizes the argument, every advertised item illustrates it. The logic of the whole business is, the winter is waning, and whatever we have in merchandise of a seasonable nature is being offered to you minus its profit, and in many cases at less than its cost. With these facts confronting you, it would seem the very wisdom of economy to embrace the opportunity.
